Last Will And Testament

Bobby Smith and Jimmy Jones leave their ability to paint signs to the underclassmen in hopes that they will do their best to promote school spirit . . . Tom Murray leaves his ability to get along with referees to anyone who wants to risk being expelled from high school athletics . . . Linda Wheeler leaves a megaphone to the cheerleaders in place of her mouth . . . Alan Vennes leaves his ability to Richard Maddox in hopes that he can find it . . . Jan Armstrong leaves her position as head majorette to Linda Jones, since she thinks she already has it anyway . . . Jean Beatty wills her "Keyboard Favorites" to Nancy Dodd . . . Charlie Clark leaves his ability to grow sideburns to Scott Posey . . . Melvin Collier leaves his ability to sleep in English III to Leonard Pender in hopes that he will use it to occupy his time . . . Susan Luckie leaves her ability to flirt to Monisa Trice in hopes that Warren will let her use it . . . If college kills Margaret Mathews, she gratefully leaves her brain to Mrs. Carson's biology lab in support of the theory that life can exist in a vacuum . . . Danny Hicks leaves to Mrs. Cleveland Webster's Dictionary in hopes that she can make it into a movie . . . Randy Hunnicutt leaves his daringness to smoke in school to anyone brave enough to take it . . . Jean and Jan Lee leave their ability to be late to their brother, Louis, since it was usually his fault anyway . . . Lucile Liipfert leaves her loyalty and patience to wait for that special someone to Anne Lane, since she has even longer to wait . . . Linda Lister leaves her ability to catch intelligent, good-looking boys to Brenda (Pete wrote this.) . . . Kendrick Mathews leaves his ability to find an excuse to leave study hall every day to any Junior who finds it as boring as he did . . . John Reehling leaves the help of the Good Lord to Richard Knight – he needs it . . . Ricky Sanders leaves his ability to hide in the back of the room to anyone who needs the extra rest . . . Jimmy Bickley leaves his position as Assistant Trustee on McClendon's Labor Crew to whoever happens to get caught . . . Jackie Joyner bequeaths these words to the faculty: "Out of the mouth of babes comes wisdom" . . . Kerry Rooks leaves his ability to drive offensively to anyone who thinks he can handle it . . . Deryl Rowland leaves his crutches to anyone who gets banged up in football . . . Chuck Johnson leaves his ability to grow hair to Mr. McClendon, since he has not had much luck . . . Nancy Marshall leaves her basketball shoes to Karen Forsling in hopes that one day she will be able to fill them . . . Bob Barfield leaves his #37 football jersey and a smelly dressing stall to Jeffery Bennett in hopes that they will be used more often on Friday nights . . . Frank Flowers leaves to Miss Hunt the chemistry lab in hopes that she will learn to use it . . . After a substantial amount of time, determination, repetition, Algebra, and goofing off, Steve Cummings leaves FVHS to anyone who thinks he can occupy it as long as he did . . . The Senior boys leave the Junior boys the advice not to lend anything to Mike Scarborough . . . The Senior girls leave hemlines to Mr. McClendon . . . Pete Dunning leaves Mr. McClendon to next year's Annual Staff . . . The Class of '69 leaves the faculty their respect and appreciation.

Editor's Epilogue

Since the day I was given the responsibility of the publication of the 1969 VALLIHI, I have looked forward to the final night. Drawing off the last page, I find myself with mixed emotions of relief and elation and accept its finish with a feeling of accomplishment, hoping that the students will appreciate the thought and hard work behind this yearbook. I also hope that the student body will interpret the ideas presented in the same manner as intended by the Staff and me. Too often yearbooks are just looked at and never enjoyed.

I hope that we have been successful in introducing various changes in our layout and design and that the subscriber understands the full full impact of these changes. Our purpose was not to change the annual for the sake of change, but to bring about new and better techniques in yearbook design.

Returning to school last fall with the job of editor of VALLIHI 1969, I was confronted with the question, "How do you publish a great annual?" The answer was the sensational staff I had. They deserve a big round of applause for the many sleepless nights they sacrificed for editing pictures, inventing captions, and drawing layouts. Our job was eased by the euphony of Simon and Garfunkel and the sipping of Russian Tea.

My appreciation goes to Mr. and Mrs. Shivers of Americus for their total enthusiasm and photographic "know-how." Special thanks are given to Mr. McClendon for his cooperation, Ike Boyette for his assistance, and my parents for their tolerance.

I am sure there will be many different opinions regarding the quality of this book, but one thing is for certain, I thoroughly enjoyed being editor of VALLIHI 1969.
